The Bryan/College Station area has many housing options for you to choose from. Each type of housing has benefits and drawbacks, so it is important to gain as much knowledge as possible to best fit your needs. Most importantly, whichever housing option you choose, you should always feel as though you are in a safe and comfortable living environment. The information below provides a good start to gather basic facts about your living possibilities.

Choosing to live off campus

The Pros
- Apartment rent and utilities can be cheaper off campus
- Off-campus housing can be quieter at times than on-campus
- Off-campus housing can provide more personal space such as bathrooms, closets, and kitchens
- Off-campus housing provides you with renter experience
- When selecting roommates and spaces you have more control
- More privacy with individual rooms/bathrooms
- Amenities like tanning, pools, and gym access
- Most apartments allow various types of pets

The Cons
- It’s nearly impossible to get out of your lease
- Traveling to campus can be more difficult and time consuming
- Most apartments are unfurnished or semi-unfurnished
- You will have monthly rent and utilities instead of a lump sum payment for all housing charges
- You are responsible for paying your bills on time, cleaning, and maintaining appropriate noise levels
- Connecting to campus activities can be more challenging
- Most apartments offer special summer months, you will have ample housing options. Many apartments offer special summer rates. Also, consider asking your friends if they need to sublease their apartment for the summer. If you just need a place to stay during summer school, subleasing may benefit both parties.

Where to live?

Finding a place to live can be a stressful process if you do not know where to begin. Fortunately, there are many services available to ease your process. Consider the following resources and tips before making your final decision:

Set a budget. Do not forget that you will need to pay for utility deposits and other items not included in your rent such as moving expenses and apartment furnishing costs. Use the budget form on page 40 to get started.

Secure a guarantor. If you are under 18, a student, or you do not have enough income to qualify to pay the rent, you may be asked to secure a person who will assume responsibility for your debt. Learn more on page 14.

Inspect and compare. Visit units as your time will allow and have someone who has renter experience accompany you. Do not sign a lease on an apartment that is still under construction, unless you understand and accept the risks involved. Ask to see the actual apartment you are considering. Model apartments can look much different than the unit you will be renting. However, if you pre-lease, the management may not know which unit will be available, and it may be necessary to sign a lease based on the model apartment. If so, make a written notation on the lease stating that the apartment must be comparable to the model apartment shown. Do not move into your residence if it is not in an acceptable condition or does not meet the conditions you and the management agreed upon in writing. Refer to the Smart Resident Checklist on page 41 of this manual for additional assistance. Apartment hunting can be tiresome, so take notes/pictures during your research.

Places to search

Locator Services

Types of Housing

Apartments

The most popular choice for off-campus living in Bryan/College Station is privately-owned apartments. Most apartment communities are occupied predominately by students, so you will have the opportunity to live among other Aggies.

Houses, Condominiums, Townhomes, Duplexes, and Fourplexes

These options offer more privacy and space than apartments, but they may require more responsibilities for you and your roommates. Responsibilities may include mowing the lawn, providing some appliances, and making small repairs. If you rent this type of housing, ask the owner/manager to put your responsibilities in writing. Also, make sure you consider the cost of furnishing this type of housing as many units come unfurnished.

Rooms in Homes

If you are considering renting a room from a local family, friend’s parents, or family members, there are several issues you should discuss with the head(s) of household including but not limited to the following: cleaning responsibilities, rules regarding guests, and availability of kitchen, washer and dryer, etc. Occasionally, the property owners may be looking for a baby sitter, pet sitter, someone to look after a family member with special needs, or unlimited access to the house on certain weekends. If this is the case, make sure you are clear about the time you are willing to commit to such responsibilities and what compensation you will receive.

Privatized Residence Halls

Privatized Residence Halls are a fast-growing market in the realm of student housing. They often offer services and amenities not found in other off-campus housing facilities. Many offer meal plans and provide student oriented activities, services, and programs. They are designed to provide a residence hall living experience (which may include resident advisors, floor activities, hall-wide functions, etc.) and introduce students to some of the advantages of living off campus. Prices vary and there is often a variety of room styles to choose.

*Apartments may be semi- or fully furnished; apartments may also be partially or fully accessible. Call individual complexes to confirm.
Renter’s Insurance

Many tenants believe their personal belongings are insured under their landlord’s policy and any injuries sustained in their rental unit will be the responsibility of the building’s owner. However, this is not the case. The apartment you live in is insured for structural damage but does not include your personal property: furnishings, clothing, automobile, etc. Most insurance companies will provide renter’s insurance. Shop around to compare rates and coverage. You will need a good estimate of the total value of the items you wish to insure. Coverage starts as low as $80/year and goes up to $250/year. If you are a dependent student, you may be covered under your parents’ homeowner’s insurance.

Local Insurance Agencies:

- All state Insurance: http://allstate.com/renters-insurance.aspx
- Farmers Insurance: http://farmers.com/renters_insurance.html

*Actual insurance price will depend on the type of structure you are living in, if you have a current policy with the insurance company, and the amount of coverage you select.

Tenant Responsibilities

The Lease

Once you have decided where to live, the next step is to sign a lease with the property. A lease is a legally binding contract between the resident(s) and the property owner(s) which spells out the conditions under which housing is rented. Therefore, make sure you understand your rights and responsibilities outlined in the lease because if obligations are not fulfilled, legal action may be taken.

Applications and Security Deposits

Prior to signing your lease, you will likely have to complete a rental application as well as pay a security deposit. Do not complete the application unless you fully intend to live in the specified apartment. Once you sign, it may be too difficult to receive a refund on your security deposit should you choose not to live there. It is important to make a copy of the rental application as well as receive a receipt for the amount paid towards the security deposit. The security deposit’s sole purpose is to offset any damages or unpaid rent that may accrue during the time of your lease. Pay attention to the details outlined in your lease for specific guidelines.

The Guarantor

A guarantor is someone who can support the claim that you are legally and financially responsible. Some apartment complexes require a guarantor if you do not meet their financial qualifications. Guarantors must be a U.S. citizen and must provide the following information: employer, credit and rental history, and contact information. A guarantor is equally responsible and liable for the lease and will be charged if you are not able to pay.

Withholding Rent

It is important to know that legally, you may not withhold rent because repairs have not been completed. Depending on the circumstance, you may negotiate a rent reduction settlement with your management. If this is done, be sure to document the agreement in writing and ensure both parties sign the original document. If the lease states the management is not responsible for repairs, then you cannot terminate your lease if repairs are not made. The law implies a warranty by the property owner that the apartment or house will be habitable. This means the property owner must repair any condition that materially affects the safety or health of a resident. Examples of such conditions might include sizeable roof damage, water hazards, or a serious pest problem. The law provides a procedure for requesting repairs and gives specific rights in court against the property owner if repairs are not made. If you have questions about this topic, contact OffCampus Student Services at 979.845.1741 or at http://ocss.tamu.edu.

Renters’ Insurance

Many tenants believe their personal belongings are insured under their landlord’s policy and any injuries sustained in their rental unit will be the responsibility of the building’s owner. However, this is not the case. The apartment you live in is insured for structural damage but does not include your personal property: furnishings, clothing, automobile, etc. Most insurance companies will provide renter’s insurance. Shop around to compare rates and coverage. You will need a good estimate of the total value of the items you wish to insure. Coverage starts as low as $80/year and goes up to $250/year. If you are a dependent student, you may be covered under your parents’ homeowner’s insurance.

Local Insurance Agencies:

- All state Insurance: http://allstate.com/renters-insurance.aspx
- Farmers Insurance: http://farmers.com/renters_insurance.html

*Actual insurance price will depend on the type of structure you are living in, if you have a current policy with the insurance company, and the amount of coverage you select.

Tenant Rights

Although you are leasing your new living space, as a tenant you have rights. Being aware of your legal rights will help you in handling disputes that may arise during your occupancy. The relationship between Texas landlords and their tenants is governed by several statutes, particularly Chapter 92 of the Texas Property Code, and by various court rulings. However, the most important source of information about your relationship with your landlord is your rental agreement, whether it is written or oral.

Under the law

- It is illegal for a landlord to retaliate against you for complaining in good faith about necessary repairs for a period of six months from the date you made the complaint. Of course, you can always be evicted if you fail to pay rent, threaten the safety of the landlord, or intentionally damage property.
- You must give the landlord a forwarding address in order to recover your deposit. Landlords cannot refuse to return your deposit without a valid reason and must give you an itemized list of deductions with a description of the damage they should be deducted from the deposit.
- The landlord may not charge you for normal wear and tear of the premises. For example, if the carpet becomes more worn because you and your guests walked on it for a year, the landlord may not charge you for new carpet. However, if you make stains or damages to the carpet you may be charged.

Rights

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Right to Peace and Quiet</th>
<th>Right to Health and Safety</th>
<th>Right to Security</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>As it is stated in the law, tenants have the right to “quiet enjoyment.” Landlords cannot evict you without cause or otherwise disturb your right to live in peace and quiet. If other tenants are being disruptive, you should complain to the landlord as they have the duty to protect you from other tenants’ wrongful behavior.</td>
<td>You have the right to demand the landlord repair conditions that materially affect your health and safety. Under Texas law, by renting out the property, the landlord guarantees the unit will be a fit place to live. However, the landlord is not responsible to repair an unsafe or unhealthy condition from the result of your own negligence.</td>
<td>Although there are exceptions, under Texas law a dwelling must be equipped with security devices such as window latches, keed dead bolts on exterior doors, sliding door pin locks, sliding door handle latches or sliding door security bars, and door viewers. These devices are installed at the landlord’s expense. If devices are missing, tenants have the right to request installation.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

If you have problems

If the landlord fails to ensure your health, safety, or security and you follow the procedures required by law, you may be entitled to end the lease, have the problem repaired and deduct the cost of the repair from the rent, or file suit to force the landlord to make the repairs. However, you must follow the steps below prior to taking action:

- Send the landlord a dated letter by certified mail or registered mail outlining the needed repairs. Keep a copy of the letter, and be sure your rent is current when the notice is received.
- The landlord should make a diligent effort to repair the problem within a reasonable time after the receipt of the notice. The law presumes seven days to be reasonable; however, the landlord can rebut this assumption. Should the landlord fail to take action within the seven days, send a second notice regarding the needed repairs.
- If the landlord fails to make diligent efforts to make repairs after receiving the notice letter by certified mail, return receipt requested, or by registered mail, you may be entitled to end the lease, repair the problem and deduct the cost from your rent, or file suit. However, you should seek legal consultation before taking action.

What to look for in your lease

- When is the rent due, who do you pay it to, and where?
- Are there late charges if rent is not paid on time? How much are late fees and when do they apply?
- How much advance notice must be given before moving out at the end of the lease term?
- What will you be responsible for if you need to move out before the lease end date?
- What are the property's policies toward roommates?
- What restrictions, if any, will affect your security deposit refund?
- What are the property owner's obligations to make needed repairs?
- How should you request repairs? (It is a good idea to put requests in writing.)
- What does the rent include? Any furniture, utilities, parking, and amenities?
- Are there any instructions for cleaning the apartment when you move out?
- Are there rules against (or fees related to) subletting or keeping animals?
- Are there any community standards or additional rules?

Application Deposit | Money you may be asked to pay in advance at the time you complete a rental application. If you are approved to rent the property, the application deposit (not the application fee) is usually applied to the security deposit.

Rent and Charges | Rental amount, charges, payment method, payment due dates, and penalties for late payment are outlined in the lease.

Repair Requests | If you need any type of repair, written notice must be given to the management (except in emergencies involving immediate danger to person or property).

Entering Your Apartment | By requesting a maintenance repair, you give the apartment staff the right to enter your apartment whether or not you are there. They should always leave a note stating when and why they were there and what repairs were made. Also note, if one roommate turns in a request, all roommates acknowledge the right for staff to enter.

Individual Lease | This type of lease means you are only responsible for your portion of the rent. Your landlord cannot require you to pay for your roommate’s portion if your roommate moves out early.

Lease | A binding, legal contract in which you agree to pay an amount of rent for a specific piece of property, for a specific period of time.

Lease Term | At the end of the initial lease term, the lease will automatically renew on a month-to-month basis unless prior written notice of termination is given by the manager or the resident. Check individual lease for specific requirements (i.e. 30 days notice).

Security Devices | Your residence must have the following: a window latch on each window; a keyless dead bolt and door viewer (peep hole) on each exterior door; and a pin lock, door handle latch, or security bar on each sliding glass door.

Community Policies or Rules | Ask your manager to give you a copy of any other rules and regulations that apply specifically to the apartment complex or community.

Parties | Include the name of all roommates on your lease. Your roommates will not be legally responsible for the unit if their names and signatures do not appear on the lease.

Joint/ Common Lease | A joint lease is one you sign with another roommate(s) where each party is equally responsible for the entire rent amount. If a roommate moves out, you can be held responsible for paying their portion of the rent.

Security Deposit | Money paid when the lease is signed to offset the cost of lease violation charges or damages to the property.

Aggie Tip

- Read your lease carefully.
- Ask questions about anything that is unclear, or that you do not understand.
- Put everything in writing, including agreements, notices, and requests.
Utilities: Many off campus housing units require you to pay your own external costs and require you to bring in proof of service, such as an account number, before you are able to move in. In addition to contacting the providers be prepared to pay utility deposits and installation fees. You can prevent overpaying for these services by simply reading your own meter to check the amount of electricity you consume. Each city provides a brochure explaining rates and billing procedures.

Roommates

Sharing your space with a roommate has its advantages, such as having someone to share memories with, attend events with around Bryan/College Station, and, of course, help reduce the overall cost of living off campus. When looking for a potential roommate, always be aware of their habits, as some of their traits may not mesh well with your lifestyle. Making an effort to get to know your roommate and preparing for potential conflict in advance is important. Learning to appreciate each other’s differences without infringing on one another’s freedoms can be a valuable part of your living and social learning experience off campus.

Roommate Issues. Understand, when you sign a lease for an off-campus apartment, you are entering into a binding agreement with the management of that particular complex. If you or your roommate moves out during the lease term, management will hold those who have signed the lease responsible for any damages and remaining rent due. Property owners may try to collect the full amount of the rent from the roommate(s) remaining in the apartment. Because of this liability, you should be careful in selecting a roommate.

Don’t feel like you have to solve roommate conflicts on your own! Texas A&M provides several resources to assist you. Off-Campus Student Services ensures that you can engage in a positive living environment while attending Texas A&M through services like:

- AggieSearch: Finding a new roommate should be the responsibility of the roommate(s) moving out, but if he or she is negligent, you may need to take action. For help locating a new potential roommate, visit AggieSearch at http://aggiesearch.tamu.edu
- Student Mediation Services: See page 37 to learn more about Student Mediation Services.

Roommate Contracts: Establishing clear guidelines and expectations for a living environment can be difficult. Off-Campus Student Services recommends the use of a roommate contract to aid roommates in defining their commitments to each other. This is a legal document which defines in writing each roommate’s obligations. Filling out this form is a great way to set expectations for you and your roommate. Discussing issues up front and committing to them in writing helps set you up for a great living situation, and it’s always there to refer to in case of a problem during the semester. This form can be used as evidence in court, for instance if a roommate moves out, leaving the remaining person(s) to pay all the rent and bills. A roommate contract is available on page 45 of the helpful forms section of this manual.

Expectations of one another should be discussed before you move in, or at the very latest immediately after. Along with the Roommate Contract, another helpful document our office provides is a pamphlet entitled “You Are Your Roommate’s Roommate”. This pamphlet describes some important talking points that should be discussed, not only to learn more about one another, but to also address concerns that you each may have. To check out this form, visit http://studentlife.tamu.edu/aposs/gettingtoknoweachother.
The Move

When preparing for a move you should always take safety precautions, no matter the distance you travel. Prepare for the trip by bringing a cellular phone in case of emergencies, planning a time of day to call a friend or parent to update them on your status, and carrying a credit card or another type of traceable money. Always carry more than just cash when traveling; unexpected expenses such as car repairs can be costly and you have to be prepared to cover those costs. In addition, consider the following as you prepare for moving day.

Moving Checklist
1. Arrange connection/disconnection of utilities: gas, electric, telephone, internet, and cable.
2. Arrange for transportation of personal items and furniture.
3. Service your car before traveling.
4. Change your address with the post office 10 days before you move (http://moversguide.usps.com).
5. Decide and finalize banking affairs, including your checking account.
6. Clean your apartment in accordance with your management’s move out instructions; you don’t want to be charged an extra fee just because you didn’t take the time to clean your apartment.
7. Return manager’s property (keys, gate clickers, etc.) and give a forwarding address in writing.

Boxes & Moving Valuables

While you can purchase boxes from moving companies, many stores give away their empty boxes for free. Grocery stores, liquor stores, and restaurants usually have plenty of boxes to spare, and they are the perfect size for packing books or knickknacks. If your insurance does not cover valuables in transit, consider investing in an AAA (American Automobile Association) membership or mail valuables and insure them with the post office.

When you Arrive

Consider doing the following on the first day in your new home:

- Check security items such as locks, windows, fire extinguisher, and smoke alarms.
- Check that everything is working properly including: heater, air conditioner, hot water, appliances, sinks toilets, light fixtures, fans, electrical outlets, telephone jacks, and internet connection.
- Locate the fuse box.
- Check for any signs of insects or pests.
- If your lease states that the management is responsible for pest control, make sure the apartment has been exterminated recently.

Once you have settled in, consider:

- Working with your landlord to have new locks installed for security reasons.
- Leaving an extra set of keys with a friend or relative for an emergency or if you lock yourself out.
- Locating bus stops in the area.
- Locating parking lots available for guests to avoid being towed.
- Notifying friends, school, and associated businesses of your new address and phone numbers.
- Meeting your neighbors.
Making your place a Home

Food, furniture, and decorations are three aspects that college students cannot live without. Well, you can live without decorating, but it makes your place feel like home. The following information provides suggestions for finding the things you need and want while maintaining a budget.

Dining Out is always a great way to acclimate yourself with the culture of the town. The Chamber of Commerce publishes a free guide of local restaurants and clubs, and The Eagle publishes “The Dining Guide,” which can be accessed online at http://www.theeagle.com. The Taste of BCS card is a rewards cards that can be used at local restaurants. Consider signing up for one at http://tasteofbcs.com. Engaging with the locals serves as a great way to find the best local eateries in town. Whether it is Freebirds, Potato Shack, or Hungry Howie’s, Bryan/College Station is home to many different dining experiences that are very reasonably priced.

Campus Dining offers flexibility and convenience and are available to both on and off-campus students. In addition to meal plans, you can use cash or credit card. University Dining offers a variety of locations and hours throughout campus. For a map and list of services, visit http://www.food.tamu.edu.

Furnishing Your Home

Buying used furniture to furnish your place is a great way to save money. Utilize garage sales, newspaper classifieds, Bryan/College Station is home to many different dining experiences that are very reasonably priced.

- The Battalion Classified at http://thebatt.com
- Free and For Sale: open Facebook group for Texas A&M Students.
- Bryan-College Station FOR SALE items Beg/Barter/ Buy: Facebook group open to the BCS community.
- Visit http://shopbrazos.com to see when and where yard sales will be happening during late spring and summer.
- Check out Craigslist, eBay, or other social media websites for furniture steals.

Cooking meals is a great option to maintain a monthly budget. You will need to reach an agreement with your roommate(s) about sharing food and kitchen responsibilities. There are several models to choose from including:

- Individualism: Each individual partakes in their own cooking and shopping. This is good if you or your roommate(s) maintain a special diet, enjoy fixing your own food, are on a tight budget, eat at varied times, or eat substantially different quantities of food.
- Capitalism: Everyone shares basic items such as flour, sugar, butter, etc. This option gives you the freedom to cook whatever you like, while at the same time, saving your money for other expenses.
- Socialism: Everyone buys food together, and the cost is equally divided. Each member of the household shares responsibilities for cooking, cleaning, and shopping. This requires coordination, but creates a terrific home environment and can help save money.

Aggie Tip: Be careful if you choose to buy a used mattress. Used mattresses may have bedbugs. To ensure your mattress doesn’t have bedbugs, let it sit in the sun for 24-48 hours or use a steamer (set it to 120°F or more) to thoroughly steam the mattress. Do this before you bring the mattress in your home.

Household Tips

Shopping
- Take a camera with you when shopping for your new home. This will allow you to review your options at home when you’re not under pressure. Remember, it’s wise to take time to think about these major decisions.
- Make a grocery list with bring with you when you go grocery shopping. This will allow you to remember what you need, as opposed to purchasing items you have plenty of or forgetting something you need to get. If you use coupons, keep your coupons inside an envelope and write your grocery list on the outside.

House Cleaning
- Think outside of the box for cleaning supplies. Old socks can be used for dust cloths, old newspapers are lint free and great for wiping windows, and club soda or windex works great for spills on carpet.
- Don’t try tackling the whole residence at once. The best way to clean is to take it room by room.
- Create a cleaning schedule. This ensures that everyone is taking part in keeping the home up to par!

Kitchen
- If you have leftover tea, coffee, or soda, make ice cubes out of them to put in drinks.
- To store recipes, slip them into clear plastic sheet protectors. The pages are easy to remove for reference and any food splatter will wipe right off.
- To keep bugs out of flour or cereal, stick a bay leaf or a stick of spearmint gum on the shelf.
- To remove fat from soup, refrigerate the soup overnight. Then take a spatula and skim the solidified fat from the top.
- To avoid cutting your fingers when slicing food, tuck them under to form a slight fist.
- Keep baking soda in your fridge to keep it smelling fresh.
- Throw out bad food and produce. Moldy food will begin to smell bad and should be discarded immediately.

Laundry
- Make a grocery list to bring with you when you go grocery shopping. This will allow you to remember what you need, as opposed to purchasing items you have plenty of or forgetting something you need to get. If you use coupons, keep your coupons inside an envelope and write your grocery list on the outside.

- Do not become a pack-rat. Throw away or donate worn clothing, old appliances, or items you do not use or need. This will allow for less clutter and more free space in your home.

Recycle
- Recycling is a great habit to form as you begin to live on your own. There are several recycling options for off campus residents. Utilizes the two sources below to learn more about recycling in town:

When The Time Comes To Move Out

Terminating a Lease Early

Moving out before your lease expires is a breach of contract, and the property owner may be entitled to damages. Generally, according to the terms of a lease, you are liable for rent on the remaining number of months on the lease. In addition, you may be held liable for more than the security deposit if you break the lease. If you do not pay, you can be sued. If you are unable to pay your debt, the property owner can file a judgment, which can last 7-10 years and can be renewed for an extended period of time. Judgments on your record can lower your credit score and prevent you from obtaining loans and other credit. If you need to move out before the term of your lease expires, you may want to visit with an Off-Campus Student Services staff member to learn the potential consequences and seek advice moving forward.

Moving out early? Consider These Options:

1. Negotiating: The property manager may be willing to negotiate with you, but if you and the property manager reach an agreement, make sure it is in writing and signed by both parties involved. Verbal agreements are not sufficient.

2. Subleasing: A sublease is an agreement in which you rent your apartment to another person with the property owner’s permission. You become the sublease manager and will still be responsible for the apartment, including rent and damages. You are not entitled to receive the security deposit back until your lease term ends. A basic sublease contract is usually available from the property manager. Be sure to keep a copy of the signed contract.

3. Releasing: This is similar to subleasing, but the actual lease contract is changed to add the new tenant and remove the old tenant. The original tenant is responsible for paying the rent until a new tenant is found. Once a new tenant is found, the original tenant often pays a releasing fee, which is usually 85% of one month’s rent. When the agreement is made, all parties should sign it and keep a copy. Once you (the original tenant) pay the releasing fee, you are officially released from the lease and are no longer responsible for rent or damages.

Eviction

A property owner may evict a resident for violation of conditions specified in the lease, destruction of property well beyond the normal wear and tear, and for nonpayment of rent. A manager must give 24 hours written notice (depending on the lease) of his/her intent. If the resident refuses to move, an eviction lawsuit can be filed in the Justice of the Peace Court to forcibly evict a tenant. An eviction requires you be given legal notice and an opportunity to appear in court. If you feel an eviction is unjustified or you need legal assistance, contact Student Legal Services.

Deposit Return:

The requirements for the return of your deposit are outlined in your lease or in the security deposit agreement. If you have fulfilled all the conditions for the return of your deposit, your manager is required to refund your security deposit. If your landlord does not refund your full deposit, he or she must provide you with a written itemized list of any deductions within 30 days after you vacate or 30 days after they have received your forwarding address in writing, whichever comes later. If you do not receive such information within 30 days, contact the property owner to see if there was an oversight. If you do not agree with the property owner’s deductions, discuss the issue with him or her. If the discrepancy remains unresolved, you may contact Off-Campus Student Services for further options.

Typical Requirements for a Security Deposit Return:

- Move In Condition Inventory Form completed within 48 hours of moving into the apartment and completing a walk-through in the empty, cleaned apartment with your manager (make sure to keep a copy for yourself).
- Occupy the unit for the entire lease term.
- Give written notice of intent to vacate within the time frame outlined in your lease. Keep a copy signed by the manager.
- Clean the apartment in accordance with the manager’s move-out cleaning instructions.
- Pay all rent according to the terms in the lease.
- Give your manager your forwarding address in writing. Within 30 days after you vacate the apartment, the manager is required by law to either refund the security deposit or provide you with a written, itemized list of all the deductions.
- Turn in all keys to the apartment, including mailbox and gate keys.

When The Time Comes To Move Out

Finding your wonderland

Give your notice. Check your lease for the defined move-out notice period. Average times include 30, 60, or 90 day notices. In accordance with the lease move-out notice period, notify your manager in writing of your intentions, even if it is when your lease expires. Off-Campus Student Services has forms available for this purpose. See page 47 for a preview of this document. Additionally, you can request a notice form from the complex management team or draft one on your own. Be sure to include your forwarding address on the document as you complete it.

Request a move out appointment. Make an appointment with your manager to jointly inspect the apartment and compare the condition of the unit with the Move In Condition Inventory Form that you completed at the beginning of your lease term. If you are unable to inspect the apartment with your manager, have several impartial witnesses take photographs or make a video tape to note the apartment condition in case a discrepancy exists in the manager’s deductions. You are responsible for any damages incurred during your stay.

Be proactive in receiving your security deposit. The requirements for the return of your deposit are outlined in your lease or in the security deposit agreement. If you have fulfilled all of the conditions for the return of your deposit, your manager is required to refund your security deposit. If your landlord does not refund your full deposit, he or she must provide you with a written itemized list of any deductions within 30 days after you vacate or 30 days after they have received your forwarding address in writing, whichever comes later. If you do not receive such information within 30 days, contact the property owner to see if there was an oversight. If you do not agree with the property owner’s deductions, discuss the issue with him or her. If the discrepancy remains unresolved, you may contact Off-Campus Student Services for further options.
Safety

As an off-campus student, it is important to remember that you are responsible for your personal safety. Whether you are in an apartment, car, or walking across campus, the best safety measures are the ones you take. Listed below are some tips to stay safe and help you avoid becoming the victim of a crime. Also, remember that there are phone numbers for Corps Escorts, UPD, and CARPOOL (among others) on the back of your student ID. Other emergency numbers you should program into your phone for quick reference include:

1. College Station Police Department 979.764.3600
2. Bryan Police Department 979.361.3888
3. Brazos County Sheriff’s Office 979.361.4900

If you receive obscene phone calls, hang up and call the police. Notify the police if any unfamiliar person is hanging around your building or house.

DPS_WEB/Heat/index.aspx.

If A Fire Does Occur
- Call 911.
- Do not use the building elevator.
- Do not attempt to remove your car.
- Do not yell. Use the fire alarm to alert other occupants in the building.
- Do not re-enter the building until permitted to do so by the emergency responders.

Keep Your Home Fire Safe
- Check for smoke detectors in your home.
- Plan escape routes and be familiar with the location of all exit stairways on your floor.
- Clean out storage areas and do not let trash accumulate.
- If using candles, make sure they are placed securely in a spot where they cannot be accidentally tipped over.
- Clean the lint filter of the clothes dryer after each use.

Vehicle Safety

Two of the most common crimes are vehicle burglary and theft. Follow these tips to keep your vehicle safe:
- Never leave keys in a vehicle.
- Always lock the doors of the vehicle.
- Remove items (purses, iPods, laptops, books, etc.) from the vehicle when possible, or put them in a place that is out of view (the trunk is best).
- Remove GPS systems and "pull-out" style stereos (if equipped).
- Park in well-lit areas.
- Park in garages, driveways, or near your apartment so your vehicle can be viewed periodically.
- Register your vehicle in the Help End Auto Theft (H.E.A.T.) program online at https://records.txdps.state.tx.us/DPS_WEB/Heat/index.aspx.

When Walking Alone

- Locate emergency blue light poles on campus.
- Walk only on busy, well-lit streets, even if the trip is longer.
- Have your cell phone in an easily accessible place in case of an immediate need to contact police.
- If someone in a vehicle asks for directions, keep far enough away to avoid being grabbed.
- If you feel you are being followed, cross the street or go the other way.
- If you feel you are being followed, do not lead them to your home. Go to a safe place where other people will be present, e.g. a restaurant.
- When returning home, have your key out and ready to unlock the door.

Personal Safety

Your best weapon is your common sense, intellect, and good judgment. For emergencies, call 9-911 from campus phones or 911 from off-campus phones. Report suspicious activity on campus to the University Police Dispatcher, and report off-campus concerns to the College Station or Bryan Police Departments. Use the following three rules for your personal safety:
- Stay alert and always be aware of your surroundings and what you are doing.
- Communicate the message that you’re calm, confident, and know where you are going.
- Trust your instincts. If you feel unsafe, leave or call the appropriate law enforcement agency.

Home Safety

It is important to promote safety and ensure that you are living safely in your new home. Use the following tips to ensure the safety of your home:
- Never leave apartment doors propped open or unlocked for friends.
- Be careful to whom you lend your keys and never leave your keys for anyone outside of your apartment.
- Leave a radio and/or light on when you go out so people think someone is home.
- Get to know the neighbors in your building or neighborhood and become acquainted with their schedules.
- If you receive obscene phone calls, hang up and call the police.
- Notify the police if any unfamiliar person is hanging around your building or house.
- Stop all deliveries including mail and newspaper when you are out of town.
- Immediately contact management and notify them in writing of any malfunction of safety devices or locks.
- Do not panic if your apartment has been entered. It is best not to enter the premises in case the intruder is still inside. Contact the police and your manager immediately. If you do enter, do not "tidy up." Any detail could offer valuable information to the police and the investigation.
- You should label an emergency contact in your phone, e.g. your mother or father, as ICE (In Case of Emergency).
- In case of theft, create a list of all valuables including the following: brand/model, serial number, picture of the item, and receipt. Consider engraving your name and/or driver license number on the item as well.

The Corps of Cadets provides a free escort service between the hours of 5pm and 8am. To request an escort simply call the Guard Room (979.845.6789), and a Corps member will meet the person requesting escort and report off-campus concerns to the College Station or Bryan Police Departments. Parking
Four simple parking tips will help you get around campus and avoid a citation.
• Read the signs!
• Be familiar with the Parking and Transportation website.
• If it’s not a space, don’t park there.
• If you don’t have a permit, pay to park in a visitor area.

Each lot on A&M’s campus has a designated number. Please park only in the lot designated on your permit between the hours of 6 am and 5 pm (after 5 pm, you can park in any lot with a valid permit, except for lots 30 and 40.) Additionally, West Campus Garage parking becomes available at 4pm. Parking permits may be requested online during the permit registration period by visiting transport.tamu.edu/parking/visitor.aspx or by purchasing one from the Customer Assistance Center in 108 Koldus after the registration period has passed. See the Transportation Services website for a parking map and more detailed parking regulations.

Bicycling
Bicycling is an inexpensive, healthy, and environmentally friendly means of transportation to and around campus. When riding a bicycle, please operate at a safe and reasonable speed. Bicyclists are required to follow the same traffic laws that pertain to motor vehicle operators, such as following state laws, using appropriate signals, obeying stop signs, and yielding to those who have the right of way. The City of College Station has a Bike Map & Info Guide available for download: cstx.gov/bike/ped/greensways.

When parking your bike on campus, please use the bike racks provided to secure your bicycle. Please refrain from parking/chaining bikes on or near access ramps, accessible entrances, handrails, trees, shrubs, or light fixtures. Bicycles that are improperly parked are subject to impoundment. For more specific bicycle regulations, tips and services, visit transport.tamu.edu/bicycles.

In order to prevent bike theft, register your bike with Transportation Services, and consider having University Police engrave your Driver’s License number on the frame of the bike, locking your bike, and reporting any suspicious behavior to University Police.

Riding the Aggie Spirit Transit Buses
Transit buses can be the most convenient way to travel to campus during the week, provided you live within a reasonable distance from a bus stop. Off-campus service is available to students, faculty and staff to travel to and from campus, and several areas in Bryan and College Station (present a TAMU ID at off-campus stops).

During the fall and spring semesters, the buses run Monday-Friday with service from 7am to approximately 12am (midnight). Night service operates on all of the off-campus routes, and on-campus routes 01, 03, 04, and 05 until approximately midnight. Weekend service is offered between the hours of 9 am and 6 pm. Limited service is provided on home football gamedays. Between semesters and during the summer, the buses run Monday – Friday only from 7am – 6pm. There is no service when the university is closed or on nights and weekends during break service. Maps, leave times, and real-time bus locations are available at transport.tamu.edu/busroutes. Visit transport.tamu.edu/transit or call 847.RIDE (7435) for more information.

Since buses operate less frequently at night and on weekends, you may want to consider purchasing a night and weekend parking permit. A night and weekend permit allows parking on campus in most areas on weekdays from 5 pm - 6 am and most weekends and University holidays. Of course, all other permits are still valid at night and on the weekends. See the Parking section on the next page or visit the Transportation Services website for more details.
Aggie Up is a cooperative campaign among Texas A&M and the cities of Bryan and College Station to bring programs and services together to give students the information they need to become fully integrated residents. The goal of this partnership is to inform students of Bryan and College Station laws, so those living in the area have a more enjoyable residency experience. Remember these common courtesy rules, do your part to “Aggie Up,” and be a good neighbor:

Know Your Neighbors
- You do not have to be best friends with the people that live next door, but it is a good idea to know their names and numbers in case of an emergency.
- Introduce yourself to your neighbors and say, “Howdy!” when you see them.
- Exchange phone numbers for emergency situations.
- Ask neighbors to pick up your mail when you are on vacation and offer to do the same in return.

Something to consider: Property owners and property managers may be notified of all noise and alcohol violations occurring on their property. Property owners will decide how to handle these violations. If the violations of the Texas Penal Code and Texas Alcoholic Beverage Code continue, the Texas Nuisance Abatement statute may be enforced. This action can result in civil litigation for property owners, which may result in eviction.

Noise
Always be mindful of any loud noise coming from your home, including barking dogs and music. It is unlawful for anyone to willfully make or allow continued loud noise, especially during the hours of 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. If you can hear the noise at the end of your property line, then it is too loud. Noise complaints can be reported to the following:
- College Station Police Department: 979.764.3600
- Bryan Police Department: 979.209.5300
- University Police Department: 979.845.2345

If you are found in violation, everyone on your lease could receive a citation. Texas A&M students who have been charged with a noise violation, may have the option to take a noise abatement class to clear their record. The class includes city codes, conflict management, being a good neighbor, and party planning skills. For more details on noise abatement classes, call 979.845.1741.

If the city of College Station cites you for a noise violation, the following will apply:

Disorderly Conduct: Noise Violation
Class C Misdemeanor
1st Offense: $445.00
2nd Offense: $574.00

Important City Ordinances
College Station
Since at least 1972, the City of College Station does not allow for more than four unrelated individuals to occupy a dwelling unit (house, duplex, apartment, etc. and even if the residence has more than four bedrooms) within residential zoning districts. As an example, four friends living together in a home are complying with the ordinance. Four siblings living together are also complying with the ordinance, but if an unrelated friend moved in, it would be a code violation.

For more details about city codes, contact College Station Code Enforcement Division at communityenhancement@cstx.gov, 979.764.6363 or http://cstx.gov/codeenforcement.

Bryan
The City of Bryan enforces somewhat different rules than those in College Station when it comes to renting houses in neighborhoods. Contrary to rumor, in Bryan there are no areas where students are “not allowed.” Bryan rules do however limit the number of people who can occupy a house. Depending on the specific zoning classification of the neighborhood, the maximum number of unrelated individuals that may occupy a house is either two or four.

Before signing a lease or agreeing to live with roommates or long term guests, it would be a good idea to check with the City of Bryan to determine what the specific rules are in the area of your potential home-away-from-home. A quick call to the Planning and Development Services Department at 979.209.5050 could save you from costly penalties.

Take Pride in your Home
- Maybe you’re not Martha Stewart, but everyone can keep a yard or patio looking neat and clean.
- Mow your lawn on a regular basis. Weeds and grass should not be higher than 12 inches.
- Keep couches and other furniture inside the house, not on the porch.
- Put away your trash can within 12 hours of the garbage being collected (violation = a fine anywhere from $50-$1000).
- Bag and tie trash before placing in garbage can.
- Gas grills must be 10 feet away from property. Check with your apartment manager for more information.

Did You Know:
- Both cities have 24/7 noise ordinances that are stricter than state law.
- Nuisance Abatement is a civil lawsuit where you can be evicted and lose your house should you own it.
- If the police show up, answer your door. A ticket is better than being arrested or evicted.

Parking in Bryan/College Station

Don’t officers have better things to do than write parking tickets? Definitely. But they also have to ensure residential streets remain safe and accessible for emergency vehicles, residents, bicyclists, and pedestrians. Pets

Animal control officers enforce ordinances in both Bryan and College Station. Their purpose is to protect the animals and people of our community. There are several ordinances of which you should be aware:

Key Ordinances

- All dogs, cats and ferrets must be license tagged in Brazos County and rabies vaccinated (even if your pet is tagged in another county). This is required by law. Animal Control officers can give citations for no tag. A county tag provides a 24-hour hotline for lost and found pets, trauma support for up to $500, ride to vet for found/injured pets, annual reminders to renew Rabies vaccine, reduced impoundment fee and helps fund our local shelter. Brazos County License tags are $15 and can be purchased through your local vet, the Aggieland Humane Society (http://aggielandhumane.org) or Bryan Animal Center (http://animals.bryantx.gov).
- A county license tag shall cover a period of one year from the date that the rabies vaccination is given. With three-year vaccinations, a tag must be renewed each year.
- It is an offense to have pets at large. At large means to be free of physical restraing beyond the boundaries of the owner’s premises. This only applies within the city limits.
- It is an offense to allow an animal to make excessive noise by barking, howling, screeching, etc.
- If a stray animal enters your property, you may ask to have it removed and impounded by calling:
  1. Bryan Animal Control: 979.361.3888
  2. College Station Animal Control: 979.764.3600
  3. Brazos County Animal Control: (outside the city limits): 979.361.3888

Texas State Law

Any dog or cat over three months of age is required to have a yearly rabies vaccination administered by a licensed veterinarian. The animal must wear the tag at all times. Rabies vaccination/license tag is available through your veterinarian.

Brazos County Pet License

- Love us, License us, It’s the law.
- The rabies vaccination/license tag required by law will provide you with the following animal services:
  - 24 hour phone number for lost and found animals
  - Extended impoundment on tagged pets
  - Annual reminders to renew rabies vaccine and county tag
  - Reduced impoundment fee for pets wearing current Brazos County tag
- If you are taking a pet from home with you, your pet may be licensed in the county you lived in before. Please note that you are required to relicense your pet in Brazos County.
- Any animal impounded will be held for a minimum of 72 hours. All fees (impound fee, county registration and rabies shot fee, if needed) must be paid before an animal can leave the humane society.
- A permit is required to have more than four animals per property. These permits are available through Animal Control.
- Harboring any wild animal within the city limits without a state permit is an offense. Keeping or harboring a fierce or dangerous animal, except lawfully maintained and permitted dangerous dogs, is an offense.
- It is unlawful to leave an animal enclosed in a parked vehicle or enclosed trailer in the manner that subjects the animal to extreme temperatures that could adversely affect the animal’s health, safety or welfare.
- It’s unlawful for a person to transport an animal in an open bed pickup or flatbed truck on a public street or highway, unless the animal is secured in a kennel or restrained using a tether that is cross-tied to prevent the animal from falling or jumping from the vehicle or strangling on a single leash.

Student Legal Services
Students have access to an attorney licensed by the State Bar of Texas. The attorney provides advice and counseling regarding landlord/tenant disputes, criminal charges, expunction of criminal records, automobile accidents, traffic tickets, consumer protection, contracts, last will and testament, power of attorney, name change, divorce, paternity issues, insurance disputes, debt, and much more. Notary public services are also available. Representation in court and advice for lawsuits against Texas A&M or a fellow A&M student are not provided. Schedule an appointment by visiting Bizzell Hall West or by calling 979.862.4502.

Student Legal Services also provides mediation services. Frequent roommate conflicts that students face include issues dealing with cleaning, paying bills, living with a significant other, and having a roommate move out early. When you feel you can no longer handle your roommate conflict alone, seek mediation assistance from Student Legal Services.

Mediation is a voluntary and cooperative process facilitated by an impartial third party (a mediator) in an effort to resolve a conflict. The desired end result of the process is a mutually acceptable agreement between the parties. The mediator has no authority to make decisions or force a settlement. However, mediation encourages an exchange of information, helps individuals understand one another’s perspective, and develops communication skills. Conflict resolution by mediation provides a positive alternative to legal action in court and can often mend strained relationships between peers, roommates and friends. These services are provided free of charge to Texas A&M students.

Justice of the Peace Court
If mediation is not effective in resolving your civil or criminal dispute with a roommate or other individual, know your legal right to take your case to the Justice of the Peace Court. In Justice Court, you can represent yourself pro se, meaning without being represented by an attorney. During proceedings, both parties present their case informally to a judge or jury that will render a judgment based upon the testimony of the parties, witnesses and all applicable laws. The Justice Court handles claims up to $10,000. Detailed filing instructions are available at Student Legal Services located in Bizzell Hall. Total fees for filing in Justice Court are approximately $111. To begin a lawsuit, you may file a petition at one of the offices, depending upon your subject and the proper venue for it.

STRATEGIES FOR SAVING MONEY

ATMs - USER BEWARE! Those trips to the ATM can add up quickly. When possible, go to the bank and withdraw only enough for what you need (but, first, learn the difference between “need” and “want”). Make sure you plan this with your monthly expenses. Beware of ATM fees! You may be charged $1.00 - $4.00 each time you use an ATM that does not belong to your bank.

Bank Accounts - Shop around for banks and credit unions. There are those that offer free checking accounts or a low service charge for keeping a certain minimum balance.

Books - Textbooks are not cheap, and students seldom adequately budget for them. Buy USED books whenever possible or talk with friends that have taken the same classes. Many people might be willing to loan you their books or sell them to you at a reduced rate.

Coupons - In a college town, discount coupons are abundant. Use them to your advantage. Keep coupons in an obvious place (Ex: your car, purse, or wallet) so you won’t forget them when you go to the store or try to make a purchase.

Credit Cards - Credit card opportunities will be coming at you left and right. Look for the lowest interest rates available and, if possible, pay off your monthly balance in full to avoid a finance charge. Beware of rate changes, cash withdrawals, fees, etc. Be responsible!

Financial Emergencies - Contact the Department of Student Financial Aid at 979.845.3236. You may be able to take out a short-term loan or work out other arrangements to meet your expenses.

Roommates - Having roommates is one of the most economical ways to save money and cut your living expenses in half. Off-Campus Student Services provides a Roommate Referral Process that allows students to find compatible roommates. To find or search for roommates, check out the AggieSearch website at http://aggiesearch.tamu.edu.

Smart Resident Checklist

Once you have narrowed your choices, consider the following list of questions as you inspect each potential property. Since your decision is important, use this checklist to compare each property and take your time when doing so. After you have filled this out, consider your options and where you think you will feel most comfortable and happy.

Housing Checklist

Renting a property can become overwhelming with different procedures and policies a tenant should abide by while renting a property. Use this helpful checklist before move-in, after move-in, and before move-out to ensure you take the necessary precautions during each phase. Additionally, view the important document and protect your property sections to familiarize yourself with helpful tips that will help you transition into the tenant lifestyle.

Before Move-In
☐ Get a copy of the lease and place in housing folder
☐ Get a receipt for any deposits and payments I make while signing my lease
☐ Complete a move-in inventory form before moving anything into the unit
☐ Make a copy of the move-in inventory form for my records
☐ Turn original document into manager no later than 48 hours after receiving property keys
☐ Have manager date stamp and initial my copy
☐ Take pictures with a camera that date stamps on the front of the film prior to moving anything in

After Move-In
☐ Verify move-out date and mark on calendar for future reference
☐ Turn-in maintenance requests in written form and in a timely fashion
☐ Indicate monthly rent due dates on calendar and pay on time

Before Move-Out
☐ Provide a move-out notice via certified mail/return receipt requested within a specific time frame
☐ Include forwarding address in the letter
☐ Get a copy of cleaning requirements from property manager
☐ Schedule a move-out walk through with management
☐ Take pictures with a camera that date stamps after moving all items out of the property
☐ Save receipts for cleaning services from move-out (i.e. carpet cleaning, maid services, etc.)

Important Documents:
- Lease
- Move-In Inventory Form
- Community Rules/Standards
- Copies of all maintenance requests
- Photos of apartment prior to moving in belongings
- Photos of apartment after moving out belongings
- Move-out Notice

Protect Your Property:
- Obtain renters insurance prior to moving into new property
- Consider riders on expensive belongings that might not be covered fully under policy
- Test smoke detectors regularly
- Meet neighbors and share important contact information appropriately
- Keep all doors and windows locked at all times
- Remove all contact information from public view on social media as to not be easily located by strangers

The Office of Off-Campus Student Services recommends that a Roommate Contract be completed any time a new lease is signed or a lease is renewed. This document is designed to provide its users the opportunity to establish some guidelines related to the details of their living arrangements. Users are encouraged to spend quality time discussing each section, being as forthright and honest with their opinions as possible.

This agreement, made on _______________________, is a contract between: ______________________________, ______________________________, _________________________________, _______________________________; co-tenants at __________________________________________ Apt. #_________, ______________________, Texas.

If, for whatever reason, I move out of the dwelling, I realize it is primarily my responsibility to find a replacement. I agree to look for a replacement roommate which is acceptable to my present roommates. If one of my roommate(s) moves out, I also will attempt to find a replacement roommate. I understand the need to be reasonable in accepting a replacement roommate.

If I move out of the dwelling and a replacement roommate has not been found, I realize that I am still legally responsible to my roommate(s) for paying my share of the rent and utility bills.

I understand that I, as an individual, can be held responsible to my manager and/or the utility companies for up to the entire rent and/or utility bills, if my roommate(s) fail(s) to fulfill their part of this agreement.
