Health Promotion
Interpersonal Violence Prevention Specialist

POSITION OVERVIEW
The Interpersonal Violence Prevention Specialist is responsible for planning, implementing, and evaluating programs, policies, and services for TAMU students related to sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS
- Bachelor’s degree
- One or more years of full-time experience in student affairs work or related specialty
- Ability to multi-task and work cooperatively with others
- A commitment to diversity
- Strong interpersonal/organizational skills, willingness to work as part of a team

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS
- Master’s degree in public health, health promotion, social sciences, or relevant field
- Three or more years of experience working in higher education
- Ability to relate well to new students
- Knowledge of interpersonal violence (domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking) issues
- Knowledge of bystander intervention programming

RESPONSIBILITIES
- Design, implement, and evaluate presentations, workshops, and trainings to students and other groups in alignment with departmental mission of prevention education for interpersonal violence
- Initiate contact and work collaboratively with students, staff, and faculty to provide educational presentations regarding interpersonal violence prevention to the student body
- Help coordinate Green Dot Bystander Intervention Program
- Meet individually with sanctioned students regarding interpersonal violence related issues
- Stay current on trends in sexual harassment prevention, sexual assault prevention, dating and domestic violence prevention, and stalking prevention as well as new legislation, state laws, federal requirements, and national standards relating to these above-mentioned topics
- Work with supervisor to create and maintain professional development plan
- Develop and implement assessment, interpret and communicate findings, and maintain required documentation of assessment plans as they relate to programs and activities
- Working collaboratively with other offices and/or departments to implement assessment for other programs associated with interpersonal violence prevention, and collecting/using campus climate data on interpersonal violence within action plans, reports, and presentations
- Coordinate communications, marketing, and promotional materials focused on interpersonal violence prevention and awareness
- Serve as representative on department, division, and university committees, task forces, and at events

SALARY
$36,512 - $38,000

APPLICATION DEADLINE
Priority deadline March 18, 2019

TO APPLY
jobs.tamu.edu
Posting Number: R-016705

For more information, contact Lauren Dorsett at LaurenD@studentlife.tamu.edu

Texas A&M University is committed to diversity. It is our policy not to discriminate in employment opportunities or practices on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information, or any other characteristic protected by the law. The Texas A&M University System is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.